About the Event

On August 15, 2024, the University celebrated Independence Day with a keynote speech delivered by the Vice Chancellor, Prof. Sachchidanand Shukla. The event, held in the university auditorium, was attended by students, faculty, and staff. The Vice Chancellor's speech focused on the themes of national pride, the importance of education in fostering independence, and the role of the university community in shaping the future of the nation.

Honorable Vice Chancellor Prof. Shukla sir began by reflecting on the historical significance of Independence Day, honoring the struggles and sacrifices made by the freedom fighters. He emphasized the importance of remembering the values and ideals that led to the country's independence. The Vice Chancellor highlighted the pivotal role of education in empowering individuals and driving national progress. He called upon the academic community to uphold high standards of learning and research, stressing that education is a fundamental pillar in maintaining and advancing independence. Prof. Shukla encouraged students and faculty to embrace innovation and contribute to societal development. He outlined the university's initiatives to support research and development, aiming to tackle contemporary challenges and contribute to the nation's growth. Emphasizing the need for unity, the Vice Chancellor spoke about the importance of collaboration among various sectors and disciplines. He urged the university community to work together to address global and national issues, reflecting the spirit of collective effort that underpins national success. The Vice Chancellor sir concluded by outlining the university's vision for the future, including plans for expanding educational opportunities, enhancing infrastructure, and fostering a culture of inclusivity and excellence. He encouraged students to be proactive in their personal and professional development, contributing positively to society.
